

Many times we look to blame others.
But notice what God created the first five days gave him no trouble.
What he created the sixth gave him all the trouble.
And the clean reputation God started with still remains.

When believers learn to look up and hear the one who sits on the throne.
Then we will return to hearing from the one who is never to blame but majestic in all his ways.
His train of glory will not be able to be contained on this earth.
And he won't need mans applause or votes, because he always does what is best for all mankind.

Look up!
Stop looking for man to fix what God alone knows.
Look up!
Stop trusting in chariots and horses only trust in the name of God.
Look up!
And see the salvation of God.
Look up!
Pray for all mankind.
Look up!
God doesn't need a pen, staff, vote or party. He could simply blow from his nostrils and rearrange everything.
Look up!
And see the salvation of God.
Look up!
LOOK up!
LOOK UP!

Poem entitled: Look Up

Written from the heart of Linda Kirk:

Inspired by the memory of family and friends transitioned during the 20th Century Pandemic.

@EPIC

